

Third Annual Fundraiser

Raise your hat and kick up your heels for Addi's Cure

Lung Cancer is a serious disease with far too little money going toward public education and research for a cure. Bo Johnson from Financial Independence Group was an inspiration to the annuity industry. It's time to show him our ongoing respect and help to raise money for the foundation near and dear to his heart – Addi's Cure.

Let's kick up our heels, dust of our boots and sally forth to make the third annual Addi's Cure event a rip-roarin' success!

Saddle up and join us on Thursday, October 18th at this year's NAFA IMO Summit!

Think of the big gold rush as you pony-up for Addi's Cure. There are two ways YOU can help: Register for the event. Sponsor the event.

Bo Johnson was a man known industry-wide for his energy, enthusiasm and love of the annuity industry. His life was cut much too short after an arduous bout with Lung Cancer. In 2006, Bo and his wife, Christi, created Addi's Cure, a non-profit organization named after their daughter, Addison. Addi's Cure is dedicated to cancer research and education.
